

Neighbours & Friends

We've spoken with some of you already, but it's time to make it official. It's with a heavy heart, but excitement for the future, that we have decided to close our Prestwich restaurant ahead of a move to the city centre.

Being fully transparent - we've struggled to find experienced staff, leaving us with little to no personal life. We have made the decision to move on to what we hope will be a more sustainable business that can grow, and allow us more time to follow our dreams. This is by no means the end of OSMA.

We're optimistic, but it's bittersweet. After (almost!) five years we have met so many amazing and incredible people, who we're proud to call our friends and OSMA family. So many of you have kept coming back week after week - we feel honoured and so grateful for your company. There have been hard days over the years and your kindness, patience and good moods have made such an impact on us to keep pushing forward. Thank you! 🙏

Of course, we wouldn't be able to do what we do without our one-of-a-kind staff. Your efforts make OSMA what it is. Even when so understaffed, you all keep moving and help each other get through the day as a team. There's not many of you, but what you guys can achieve is incredible!

Lastly, we want to thank our landlord, Tony Freeman, for taking a risk on two 26-year-old girls wanting to open a restaurant. OSMA wouldn't be here today without him believing in us. You will live on in our memory forever.

Our last day of service will be Sunday, 9th February. Bookings are open now and we'd love to see as many of you as possible before we go. Stay tuned on our socials as we'll be throwing a leaving party, too.

A little housekeeping... gift cards bought after the 9th of Feb 2024 may be refunded to the original payment method, or extended to use at our new site (to be valid for one year after the opening date). Our Kitchen at Exhibition on Peter Street will also remain open as usual, so please don't be a stranger.

We appreciate every single one of you... and we'll be back before you know it!

Love Dani & Fie x
